SOMEONE CALLED LAST week to criticize in a more or less friendly way the manner in which The Press has, in the caller's opinion, over-played the tower issue.

The person was particularly upset by the news stories that emphasized the "splitting" of the city's official bodies (the Planning Commission and the City Council).

The Planning Commission, you might recall, voted 5-2 in favor of the proposed 17-story tower at Campbell and Bascom avenues for a civic center as opposed to the so-called downtown site.

Then in the first official "show-down" vote, the City Council indicated the feelings of the councilmen on the matter with a 3-2 vote in favor of further study.

Subsequently the Downtown Revitalization Committee voted in favor of the downtown site over the tower by a 8-3 vote.

In face of those "split" votes, it would be difficult, as well as ridiculous, in covering the most dramatic civic project to have ever hit this town, to overlook the differences in opinion that have arisen.

Of course, it would be great, if everyone in town thought the same way on these major issues. In that case maybe we could move ahead a little faster on some fronts.

But then it would be pretty boring, too.

IN MOST INSTANCES before the actual vote has been taken on any matter pertaining to the tower issue to date, it has been pretty obvious how the count was going to go.

That's sort of an indirect fringe benefit of the discussions that develop in the public hearings that precede most official actions.

Most people knew, almost from the start, for example, that Mayor Bill Smeed, Councilmen Dean Chamberlin and Homer Hyde, favored exploring every phase of the tower proposal.

And, by the same token, it was fairly obvious from the beginning that Councilmen Ralph Doetsch and Ed Rogers opposed the concept of a 17-story tower and favored having the civic center remain downtown.

It was quite apparent also the Downtown Revitalization Committee, comprised mostly of people with investments in downtown property, would be opposed to any move that they felt in any manner, would be detrimental to their downtown property.

Probably the only real surprise in that balloting was that the vote showed that there was opposition in remaining downtown.

And the 5-2 vote of the Planning Commission in favor of the tower concept for a civic center probably did not surprise to any great extent those who were in attendance at the hearings.

Indications had pointed to Dale Scott, Thayer Lyons, Jack Healey, Ed Pack and Frank Klein more or less favoring the bold approach of a civic tower with Merrill Grim and Kel Young opposing such an idea.

All the ingredients are present that could make the whole bit a purely emotional issue, if those of us vitally concerned with the welfare of the community don't keep our feet firmly on the ground.

We are trying to do just that, although a number of people apparently think otherwise.

THE PRESS CONCEDES that it may have fanned the flames to some extent by devoting so much space to the tower vs. downtown issue.

But this paper would be remiss to its responsibility to this community, if it did not emphasize the dramatic civic center tower concept that has been presented by Fred Sahadi.

As you no doubt are aware, we sincerely believe that the

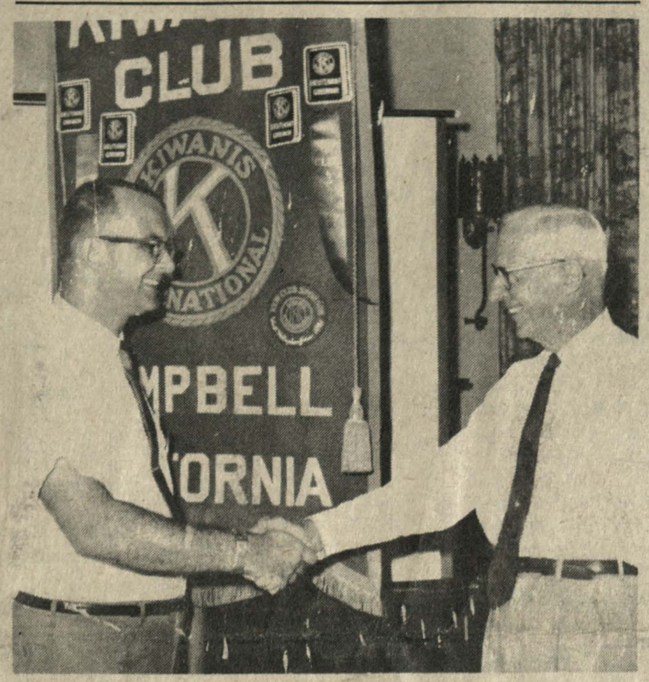
Campbell bells to ring

The bells of Campbell will ring again on July 4 for the third consecutive year. This year the deep-toned voice of the new St. Lucy's bell on S. Winchester Blvd., will be added to the bells of the Congregational Church of Campbell, Campbell Ave.; and the First Methodist Church, N. Winchester Blvd.

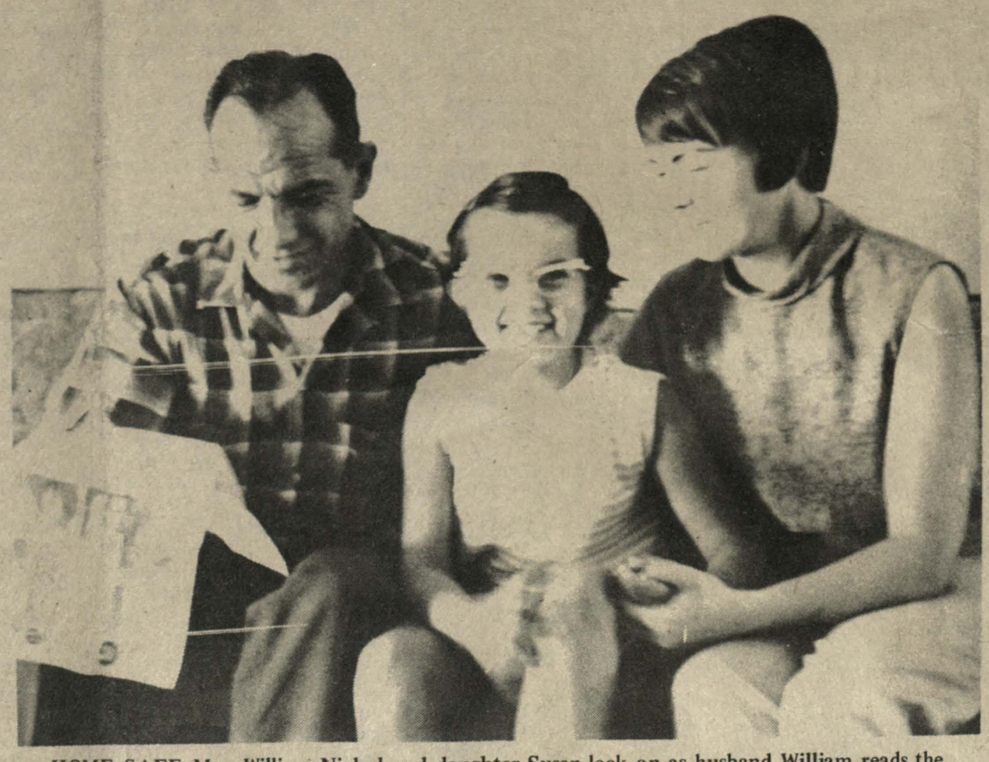
Other bell ringers in the city of Campbell will include the fire engine bells of the fire department and the large former locomotive bell owned by Mr. and Mrs. D.M. Wolf, 1222 E. Campbell Ave.

The locomotive bell was formerly mounted on Southern Pacific Steam Engine No. 2865, and Wolf, a locomotive engineer, was able to acquire the bell when the railway converted to steam.

Big and little, church and city, public and private, on 11 a.m. Thursday, July 4, Campbell will join in the chorus of bells ringing across the nation to once again remind the citizens of their heritage of freedom. A 10 minute period of bell ringing has been planned. St. Lucy's and the Methodist Church bells are electronically "programmed", but the Congregational Church bell is still a hand-pulled job.



RECORD-BREAKER--Campbell Kiwanis Club recently honored Guy Farley, (right) a charter member of the local club and who has a 42-year record of perfect attendance. He served for many years as secretary of the club, relinquishing that office only last year. Fred (Pete) Peterson, club president, is on the left.



HOME SAFE--Mrs. William Nichol and daughter Susan look on as husband William reads the clipping from the San Diego Union, describing the ordeal suffered by his wife and daughter, who were recent passengers on the Pacific Southwest Airlines Flight 70 from Los Angeles. The landing gear of the plane stuck and the pilot was forced to violently maneuver the plane for two hours above San Diego in efforts to free the mechanism.

Plane maneuver upsets Campbell passengers

Mrs. William Nichol and her eight year old daughter Susan of 1087 Bismark, Campbell, were aboard the Pacific Southwest Airlines Boeing 727 airliner that maneuvered for two hours over San Diego Tuesday trying to free a jammed landing gear door.

Mrs. Nichol, when interviewed in her Campbell home, was still suffering from the effects of the violent G-4 maneuvers executed by the pilot, Captain Edward Ondre, who was attempting to free the jammed mechanism by diving the plane, bringing the weight of the landing gear on the stuck door.

Mrs. Nichol reported that she passed out twice during the two hour interval and that the feeling of weightlessness was terrible. However, she had nothing but praise for the stewardesses and captain who showed every consideration for the passengers. After she had lost consciousness the first time. one of the stewardesses stayed with her constantly until the plane landed. Her daughter was also completely taken care of and she had no anxiety regarding her treatment.

Mrs. Nichol stated that she had made the flight many times and had been visiting a relative for a few days and was on her way home on a routine flight when the mishap occurred. Her husband, William, who was waiting at the San Jose airport for the plane to land at the expected time of arrival of 2:25 p.m., also reported extreme consideration for his welfare as he waited for his wife and daughter until 9:40 p.m. when they arrived on a much later flight.

Mrs. Nichol, who received oxygen while the plane was maneuvering, was taken by ambulance to Doctors Hospital after the plane landed safely, where she was treated for shock and anxiety before being flown home at a later hour, accompanied by a Pacific Southwest Airlines representative.

All of the luggage was ruined, according to Mrs. Nichol, as it was all placed in the lavatories with all loose objects and the doors locked to prevent it from flying around during the necessary violent maneuvers. Many of the passengers suffered from air sickness but all remained calm with no hysteria as the Captain kept them informed of the progress being made in trying to loosen the jammed door.

Susan apparently suffered no ill effects from the trip.

"Foster" family (Leland Lopes) also hosts brother, a M.D.

Girl student returns to Chile after six months at Campbell High

Anna Marie Flores is going home.

For the past six months, Anna Marie, for all intents and purposes, has been a member of the Leland Lopes family, 565 Chapman St.

Now she'll return to her native Chile.

While she was in Campbell, she attended Campbell High, and although she didn't receive a diploma, participated in the high school graduation exercises.

Leland Lopes, Milpitas school educator, is sorry to lose his "other" daughter, but has been pleased the past month, to have hosted another male in the otherwise feminine household.

Dr. Victor Flores, Anna Marie's older brother, took advantage of a medical convention in San Francisco to pay a visit to his sister's foster family.

Victor and Anna Marie are two of five children who reside in Rancagua, Chile, and whose parents are both–school principals!

Only Anna Marie has sought education in this country; Victor's entire medical education was acquired in his native state. His trip here was as representative of a Chilean medical college–at his own expense.

Anna Marie has found climate, standard of living, and many other similarities between home and Campbell–but was pleasantly surprised at the length of the school day here–Chileans attend school 5½ days a week and take seven subjects each day, for a total of fourteen courses.

Most complex to her was the difference in use of punctuation in numbers–our comma which sets off thousands is replaced by a period at home–and our periods are commas!

Anna Marie's visit was sponsored by the Youth For Understanding Program, an inter-faith, inter-racial teenage program.

Her placement in the Lopes home came about because Carol Lopes, an 18 year old 1968 graduate of Campbell High, joined the school's exchange club this past year to

Campbell hospital aids Viet Nam youngsters

By Sally Howe

Two young native Vietnamese boys are in Campbell.

More precisely, they are "guests" of Campbell Community Hospital....The only two such guests in Santa Clara Valley.

Le Nhon, 15, from Da Nong, and Huyen Bua, 17, from Quang Nam, have each suffered wounds as a result of the conflict in their native land.

They arrived at Travis Air Force Base recently. Their trip was sponsored by the "Committee of Responsibility, Inc.", a non-profit national organization who in 17 months of organization has brought 30 young wounded children from Viet Nam to the United States for treatment.

PRESS CONFERENCE

At a recent news conference, held at the hospital, officials of the organization introduced the two young boys and discussed the plight of their organization.

Miss Dorothy Ellenburg, chairman of the San Jose branch of COR, explained that could medical clearance be more readily obtained from Vietnamese authorities, 50

Next Tuesday

Topless faces test

Campbell city councilmen next Tuesday, July 9, at 8 p.m. will act as a sort of combined judge and jury at a public hearing concerning topless activities in town.

A.T. Cohen, owner of The Classy Chassy, at 1163 S. Bascom has been directed to appear at the hearing to show cause why the license for his establishment should not be revoked.

The hearing had been originally scheduled for May 24, but was continued until July 9 at the request of Cohen's attorney, Donald Tenenbaum.

The hearing stems from complaints of Police Chief John D. Morgan and other officers of the department who charge that the topless firm is in violation of city ordinances.

The police also maintain that Campbell's other topless night club, The Sand Box on Railway Ave. is also in violation of city ordinances. A hearing on the revocation of The Sand Box license is also planned.

City Attorney Joe Bonacina will conduct the case against the topless bistro on Tuesday night, the first time that such an action has ever been held by a Campbell city council.

The City Council will meet in its regular session at 8 p.m. on Monday, July 8. But a light agenda faces the council with nothing as "glamorous" as is on tap for the next night.

A progress report on the 17-story civic center tower has been tentatively listed on the agenda for Monday night.

However, the report will depend on whether the developer, Fred Sahadi, has been contacted about his time table for the improvement of the Blyntesen Ranch where the proposed 17-story civic center would be located.

The council, by a split 3-2 vote (Ralph Doetsch, Ed Rogers dissenting) last week decided to follow the recommendation of the bond counsel which emphasized that it was necessary first to ascertain Sahadi's time table before any further action was taken

The Calf Path

The following poem, "The Calf Path", although written in 1878, still makes good reading today.

It was submitted to us by a representative of Imperial Industries, the insurance brokers that represents the majority of the newspapers in the state in the group insurance field.

We thought it especially apropos for Campbell at this time. This community is facing the decision of either continuing to follow the traditional calf path or break a new trail.

We refer, of course, to the dramatic proposal of Fred Sahadi that would place Campbell's civic center in a 17-story tower at Campbell and Bascom avenues on the old Brynteson Ranch.

Although in our biased mind, the poem is especially illustrative of the Campbell tower vs. downtown issue, its message could also apply to other instances.

As we have said on numerous occasions, just because something is big, new, and unique, it does not mean that it is bad for the community.

THE CALF PATH

One day through the primeval wood
A calf walked home as good calves should;

But made a trail all bent askew,
A crooked trail as all calves do.

Since then three hundred years have fled,
And I infer the calf is dead.

But still he left behind his trail,
And therein hangs this moral tale.

The trail was taken up next day
By a lone dog that passed that way!

And then a wise bellwether sheep
Pursued the trail o'er vale and steep,

And drew the flock behind him, too
As good bellwethers always do.

And from that day, o'er hill and glade,
Through these old woods a path was made.

And many men wound in and out,
And dodged and turned and bent about

And uttered words of righteous wrath
Because 'twas such a crooked path;

But still they followed...do not laugh
The first migrations of that calf.

This forest path became a lane
That bent and turned and turned again.

This crooked lane became a road
Where many a poor horse with his load

Toiled on beneath the burning sun
And travelled some three miles in one.

And thus a century and a half
They trod the footsteps of that calf.

The years passed on in swiftness fleet;
The road became a village street;

And soon, before men were aware,
A city's crowded thoroughfare.

And men two centuries and a half
Trod in the footsteps of that calf.

A hundred thousand men were led
By one calf near three centuries dead.

For men are prone to go it blind
Along the calf paths of the mind

And work away from sun to sun
To do what other men have done;

They follow in the beaten track,
And out and in and forth and back,

And still their devious course pursue,
To keep the path that others do;

They keep the path a sacred groove
Along which all their lives they move,

But how the wise old wood gods laugh
Who saw that first primeval calf!

tower idea is the way to go.

We have come to that conclusion after weighing as many facets of the situation on a comparison basis that have been available.

That includes such factors as economics, space availability (now and for future expansion) accessibility based on street patterns and "image".

We are also aware that our conclusions maybe different than those made by others

But as we have said on a number of occasions, that is the basis for having horse races...a difference of opinion.

What we are also saying is that our community obviously is divided on this matter.

That is probably natural because of the sheer magnitude of the proposal, and the vision that is necessary to foresee the possible impact on this community.

No one can possibly guarantee now what the future results will be for the community as far as either of the civic center sites is concerned.

Incidentally, that "no guarantee" bit is a rough one.

Assuming, for example, that the civic center goes down town (or in the tower, for that matter) and 10 years later it is discovered that a horrible mistake had been made for the community.

There would be a lot of conscience-stricken people around as well as the "I-told-you-soers" gloating.

And that, of course, applies to either side.

WE THINK THEN IT IS important that all segments of the community become involved in the tower issue. That, of course, could possibly lead to an advisory vote of the people.

But the civic center issue cannot be confined to just one group in our community. The entire community is involved.

We see nothing wrong with various civic groups discussing the issue openly and voting on it.

We see nothing wrong in the board of directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce indicating the feeling of the board by official ballot. We hope that is done at the next board meeting.

We thought it was a good idea to have a ballot tacked onto the last monthly C of C bulletin that was distributed to 320 members.

That only 39 (just a few more than 10% of the members) bothered to return the ballots is sad but does give some indication.

Len Edholm, C of C manager, reported to the City Council that there were 39 ballots returned...Of the 39, the tower was favored by 22 and downtown by 17.

SURVEYS OR POLLS, OF course, leave loop-holes and gaps but provide interesting conversational topics.

Despite the fact that we can never recall a single time in our life that we have been contacted by a "surveyor" or a "poller", a great deal of value apparently is attached to various polls, especially in political circles.

We have always wondered, for example, what we would say when asked what TV program we had on if the darn tube was turned off at the time.

Anyway a telephone poll on the tower issue has been conducted by Don Hebard, vigorous opponent of the tower concept.

Don's survey indicated that a majority favored the downtown site for the civic center.

Don made a sincere effort to do an impartial job in his survey.

He made five calls at random to residents in each one of the precincts in the city.

He simply asked the people he called whether they either favored the tower or downtown for a civic center site.

Don reports that of the 60 phone calls he made on the tower topic, 24 of the people he talked to thought the civic center should remain downtown; 20 favored the tower and 16 had no idea on the subject whatsoever.

Don, as you know, was chairman of the citizens committee for the bond issue last year. He is currently serving as chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission. No one can possibly question his civic interest.

Although opposed to the tower concept for Campbell, Don is sincerely dedicated in working toward a better community.

He is interested (hence the phone survey) in finding out how the people feel on civic issues.

The results of his phone poll, of course, were inconclusive.

But he felt it was all worth the effort, even for the sore ear he acquired.

Or have you ever held the phone to your ear for 60 calls?

children instead of just the two could be receiving medical care in Santa Clara Valley. Currently only seven children are being treated in California, but the organization hopes that another ten will be cleared for travel during the coming month.

Dr. George Roth, a member of the National Board of Directors of COR, told of his two recent trips to Viet Nam, the appalling lack (by our standards) of medical care available to civilians there, and the care which the children brought to this country were receiving.

WEEKLY INJURIES

About 150 civilians are injured in Viet Nam each week, many of these children. "Since we can't export American medical facilities to Viet Nam," Dr. Roth stated, "then we must bring those wounded to this country."

He explained that COR takes no stand on the war as a war, but that they do want to help the innocent who are hurt as a result of the conflict.

Mrs. Madeline Duckles, Executive Chairman, COR for Northern California, discussed at length the needs of the voluntary organization, notably financial aid. She explained that while many hospitals, such as Campbell Community, donate their total cost of the children's care; some hospitals can not, and care is running $1500 per month.

For this reason, COR, who had previously sought no publicity, has decided to make public their needs. Mrs. Duckles described some of the plights of the children since brought to the U.S., such as the boy whose ticket for home was purchased, but whose family could not be located.

She told of the eight year old girl at Berkeley, whose jaw has been reconstructed by a series of bone grafts who cried out to her "Help me go home, help me go home and find my mommy, Missy Duckles."

"It's at that time that I felt like a helpless American do-gooder," she said.

Who comes to the country; how are the choices made, the audience wanted to know. "Who comes," responded one of the COR member, "depends on whose injury can be treated; whose parents are willing to give up their child; whose province chief will sign the medical release."

Very seriously injured often cannot be considered, for the clearance can take about eight weeks—and by that time, the critical patient is beyond hope

What will happen to Nhon and Bua? Currently, the two are "adjusting" to our ways of life (and enjoying television and chocolate bars). They both know some English, in fact Nhon says he also learned French in school, and Bua, who has a injury to his left heel, is unable to walk about. His injury was sustained when he donned his South Vietnamese brother's army coat and was mistaken for a soldier by the Viet Cong.

Later this week in their hospital rooms, the boys were photographed with their volunteer social workers—Eastfield employees Mrs. Paula Gross and Mrs. Mary Platto. They were so impressed with the miracles of the modern Polaroid, that each begged to have their picture taken so they could send it back to relatives at home.

Mrs. Gross explained that after the boys undergo extensive orthopedic surgery, they may need foster homes until it is safe for them to return home. Currently, no visitors are being allowed except officials of COR and medical personnel.

BANKING

Although a form of banking had been in operation in ancient Greece and Rome, the earliest development of the modern system of handling money dates from the 12th century.

Debate team places third in nation

Tim Sapp (Dixon) and John Brydon, representing Campbell High School at the National Speech Tournament held at Macalester College in St. Paul, Minnesota, placed third in national debate competition. Their combined efforts in debate and extemporaneous speaking made Campbell the only California school to place in the top five in sweepstakes competition.

The team competed against 60 of the finest debate teams from across the nation. A total of 350 students representing 210 high schools took part in the week long tournament.

Success is not new to this outstanding debate team. Not only are they one of the finest teams in Northern California, but they also placed third in the State Speech Tournament held in May at Stanford University.

RESIGNS--Ted Sedgwick, who was elected to a full-four-year term on the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board of trustees last April, has resigned from the board because he is moving out of the district.

Board members indicated at their last meeting that applications for the board will be accepted from interested citizens until 5 p.m. on July 10.

Applicants will be interviewed by the board at a special meeting on July 18. Sedgwick's replacement will probably be named on August 6.

on the tower issue.

The bond counsel pointed out that checking all the legal ramifications of the unique city hall proposal would be a lengthy matter. Thus it was of major importance to find out whether Sahadi could delay his development.

In a routine action, the Council is also expected to approve the tentative operating budget of the city for the 1968-69 fiscal year, a necessary step so that the city can pay its bills until the final budget and tax rate is approved in August.

Directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce have submitted a letter to the Council protesting the zone change recommended in the 701 plan for the so-called substandard Dillon-Gilman-Railway section.

The C of C has asked that the area remain as presently zoned M-1-S.

The Grand Fourth

As one who unashamedly gets goose pimples when "Old Glory" passes in review and chokes up on the words to the "Star Spangled Banner", we sincerely regret that the true meaning of the Fourth of July seems to be disappearing.

We are happy to note that a few bells in Campbell will ring out in our community this Independence Day. However, outside of that brief clanging at 11 a.m., the day locally will almost go unnoticed.

Sure, we know the holiday is appreciated by the working people. But the day should have much more meaning than just being a respite from the routine chores that are tied up with making a living.

We became particularly incensed recently when we learned that some of the so-called hippies, or worse, had desecrated the flag by using it as a towel, window curtain or a seat cover.

It was hard to believe that any young person in this country today could stoop that low morally or patriotically.

Nothing, of course, was proved by those demonstrations except to illustrate the stupidity on the part of the demonstrations. However it did affect us to a great extent, if that is any satisfaction to them.

We didn't need any fireworks to set us off.

We blew sky high.

Anyway, Independence Day, the Fourth of July, is a great day.

Think about it a little, will you, if and when you hear those bells on Thursday.

JayCees, Jaycettes install new officers at luau

Campbell JayCees and JayCettes held their third annual installation luau at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Blaine, recently. Over 50 JayCees, Jaycettes and guests, dressed in assorted Hawaiian attire, attended the affair which featured roast pig cooked in the ground under the direction of Roger Hughes, JayCee member.

Entertainment was supplied by the Lai Aloha Dancers from Santa Clara who have performed at many luaus throughout the area and entertained at various military installations on the west coast. There was active participation by some of the amateur hula dancers from those in attendance who received instruction from the dancers.

Highlight of the evening was the installation of incoming officers which was conducted by Bill Hamilton, past California JayCee vice-president, from Roseville. New officers installed were Jerry Gomes, president; Nozer Haladwala, vice-president; Ray Boswell, state director; Verl Weitzel, treasurer; Mike Van Duyn, secretary and Mike Kennedy and Yvon Boudreault, directors.

JayCettes installed included Mrs. Phil Auger, president; Mrs. Jerry Gomes, vice president; Mrs. Roger Hughes, secretary-treasurer.

After the installation Don King, District Governor and past Campbell president presented the "Keyman" Award to Dave Norman and "President's Certificate of Appreciation" to Ray Boswell who was chairman of the installation luau. Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Fred LaCosse.

Mrs. Graham heads club

Mrs. Andrew Graham was installed as president of the Blossom Valley Garden Club during their June meeting held at the Los Gatos home of Mrs. Ernest Yett.

Serving as installing officer was Mrs. Orrin Lynde with Mrs. Cecil Hill and Mrs. William Blue serving as co-hostesses.

Serving with Mrs. Graham in officers chairs during the next year will be Mrs. Ellison Holy and Mrs. Eugene Riggs, first vice-presidents; Mrs. Claude Barham, second vice president; Mrs. Thomas Hiland, secretary and Mrs. Oliver Buchner, treasurer.

Club women attend workshop

Five members of the Country Woman's Club of Campbell recently attended a workshop on parliamentary and club procedures sponsored by the Loma Prieta District Women's Clubs in Santa Clara.

Attending from the local club were Mrs. Dean Chamberlin, past president; Mrs. William Cave, incoming president; Mrs. Charles Myers, dean of chairmen; Mrs. Milton Howe, first vice president and Mrs. W.R. Morgan, honorary district board member. The group indicated that they would find ample use for the workshop procedures when their club reconvenes Sept. 23.

Attention appliances of Northern Calif.:

Oh, your poor appliances!

Our six gas and electric rate reductions in the last five years mean they've taken some big wage cuts.

And their future doesn't look any brighter. Appliances will be working at these lower rates again this year.

Except for bigger energy demands during winter, the only way your PG&E bill can go up is when you add some new appliances to your domestic staff. And then you're still getting a bargain.

So use our energy and save yours.

you'll be working for less again this year.

Police Chief Morgan talks at Grange meet

John Morgan, Campbell Police chief, spoke on the need for citizens to become more involved with helping the police department at the first June meeting of the Orchard City Grange No. 333. The program was planned around the observance of "Law Day" in California.

Morgan showed slides of family fun and emphasized the ways in which people could show more respect for the work done by the police officers in helping to protect life and property.

"Boosters Night" was also observed by the Grange members under the direction of Lecturer Ted Bohn. A talk was presented by Herb Shadle on "Grange History". The meeting was preceded by a pot luck supper under the chairmanship of Mrs. Zee Martin.

New officers recently installed by the Grangers included Mrs. Dorothy Keesling as Lady Assistant Steward and Mrs. Louise Fairchild as Ceres.

Visiting officers night was observed on the second meeting in June with the Master of the Almaden Grange, Danny Rossetto acting as Master for the evening.

Los Gatos Grangers who filled other offices included Rex Kaber and Mrs. Hilda Beightol as Executive Committeemen; Mrs. Kaber as Chaplain.

Visiting dignitaries introduced were Deputy John Buck Mrs. Florence Sheffer and Pomona Master Ed Terrell who announced that the next Pomona meeting would be at Piedmont School on July 6 at 8 p.m. The charter was draped in memory of Brother Darrin Dawson, during impressive ceremonies.

First Baptist church plans ground breaking

This is to be an all-day affair with lunch at the church. Baseball, basketball, and many other games will be in order for the day. This is an annual picnic sponsored by the Sunday School for the entire fellowship.

The highlight of the day will be ground-breaking ceremonies for the new 500 seat auditorium to be built with construction to begin immediately after the ground-breaking The new auditorium will be constructed on the present site adjoining the building now being used for the auditorium. Completion is anticipated in approximately 12 weeks, at which time a dedication service will be held.

SALES TAX BONUS

The accelerated payment was authorized by the 1967 Legislature

CROWD SCENE–Students wait patiently in line to sign up for the West Valley College summer sessions, as Nero J. Pruitt (foreground, left), Dean of Extended Day and Summer Sessions, and Donald R. Ziegler, Dean of Admissions and Records, talk things over. More than 1800 students are enrolled for summer classes in the local campus.

West Valley College trustees vote employee salary increase

A new salary schedule amounting to an increase of 7.44 per cent in the budgeted salaries for next year over the costs of the existing salary schedule was approved at a special meeting of the Board of Trustees at West Valley College, last week for certified employees.

The action was a modification of the previous decision of the Board, taken at last week's regular meeting, which called for a six per cent increase, but was in line with a compromise agreement worked out by faculty and administration representatives and presented to the board at that meeting.

Improved fringe benefits, including various options on health and hospitalization plans, life insurance, a prepaid drug prescription and group dental plan, remained unchanged from last week's action, as did a six per cent increase authorized for classified employees.

The Board deferred action on proposed increases for administrators until its next meeting, scheduled for July 2.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, pointed out the increase granted the faculty is not "7.44 per cent across-the-board," but ranges from two to as much as 10 per cent, dependent upon the faculty member's placement upon the new schedule.

It does create a new column for the non-doctorate class, making it possible for an instructor with a master's degree and 60 units of work above it, or with a bachelor's degree and 90 units of work more, provided the instructor holds a master's degree to move across the pay schedule thus opening up a new avenue for recognized additional education toward higher degrees. The earned doctorate column is retained at the top level, Dr. Hall emphasized.

Homes and businesses hit by thieves

A rash of forced entries in Campbell homes and businesses during the last two weeks have kept Campbell Police officers busily checking out the suspects in crimes that ranged from 50 cents to $601.20 in value.

Booked on suspicion of grand theft late Sunday evening were James Albert Taylor and Marion Lester Carothers, both of Burlingame, who assertedly forcibly entered the Hitchcock Garden and Tool Supply, 749 Camden Ave. and were apparently removing tools, chain saws and engines when apprehended.

Neison Bros. Trucking firm on Foote Street was entered recently and a fire extinguisher removed from one of the trucks and used to spray the interiors of the other trucks parked in the trucking firm lot. During the same evening, R.C.A. Service, 230 N. Harrison reported gas siphoned from a truck; Riteway Fixtures, 442 Industrial had a package of margarine thrown through the front windows and the Economy Lumber, company, 720 Camden Ave. was forcibly entered.

William Roy Thietje, of 1794 Gable, San Jose was arrested and booked on suspicion of possibly stealing a 1964 Ford T-Bird and removing 50 cents from the premises.

Other thefts occuring during the last week were $90 in a U.S. coin collection from Top Tool Co., 954 Camden Ave.; $601.20 valuation in auto parts, tools, and artifacts taken from the Harold L. Bohnett home, 1571 La Pradera Dr.; and a mini bike stolen from 731 Gilman valued at $251.95.

Police are also checking out a "Write Your Congressman Club" which apparently has been organized unbeknown to officials, and residents are being solicited for a $25 subscription to a club newspaper and leaflet. No soliciters permit had been obtained.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

With so much clamor for new federal programs, one would think that Washington and the Congress have done nothing to solve local problems. But the federal government has moved into so many fields that nobody knows the full extent of programs already available!

More than $20 billion a year is spent on federal programs which grant assistance and make loans to local agencies of government, schools, hospitals, and individuals. Yet there is no place in all of Washington where one can find complete and meaningful information about them.

A freshman Congressman, the Honorable William V. Roth (R-Del.), recently assigned his staff the project of compiling such information. Their preliminary report, far from complete, covered 144 pages of fine print in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD and provided more information than is available any place else in government.

To begin the study, Roth and his staff delineated 1,271 verified listings of federal programs from existing catalogs, the Government Organizational Manual, and the federal budget. Then he sent 1,271 questionnaires to the administrators of all the programs described. As of June 25, 520 had replied.

478 questionnaires were sent to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, but only 21 program directors answered. Various reasons were given including disagreement with the Congressman's description of a "program", and a statement that "programs and personnel change so rapidly that it is impossible to supply the requested data". One high ranking official refused to answer on grounds that it would take 1,600 hours to prepare the information. This raises the question, "If a department doesn't know what it has to offer, how can a city, a county, or a school know what to ask for?"

The inconsistency of information furnished is shocking. On May 15 the Assistant Commissioner said fifty-three programs were administered by the Office of Education. A catalog published by the Office of Economic Opportunity says there are sixty-two, but the Bureau of Higher Education lists eighty-two programs in higher education alone. Another Office of Education document lists 111 programs and Congressman Roth found 120. Page 398 of "Catalog of Federal Assistance Programs", published by OEO, describes a program to furnish a consultant to cities and towns to help them cut red tape in preparing applications for federal grants. But, paradoxically, the program has never had a dime to spend.

Every state, large city, or university must maintain fulltime offices in Washington to get enough meaningful information as the basis for applications. Members of Congress have no means of knowing what programs are wasteful duplications and what new programs might be necessary.

The time has obviously come for some drastic simplification. This is why I have proposed a permanent Hoover Commission to review and expose duplication. I shall also join with Congressman Roth in pushing for legislation to close the information gap on federal programs.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 15

"Shades of yesteryear!"

Remember the good old days–as some people refer to them–when the pioneers forged the streams, braved the wilderness and the elements to settle the West? Those things were brought to mind this week by some 200 Brownie Girl Scouts beginning the first week of the summer Day Camp programs at Vasona Park. Many were truly pioneers as this was their first camping experience, and they did forge the stream! It seems the elements had taken their toll on a section of the little hand bridge leading to the Pond Area where the Brownie camps was to be held. One by one, the Senior Scouts in charge, helped the small, timid girls across stepping stones to the remainder of the bridge that was left intact.

Adventure before camp even begins–you can't beat that for fun!

The Junior Scout Camp was held in the new picnic area just recently completed. Some 100 Juniors enjoyed busy days of learning new skills and crafts and each unit spent a day visiting Hakoni and Villa Montalvo. Summer is fun–when you're a young, eager Girl Scout.

TROOP 371

The Capri Jr.'s, Troop 371, put the finishing touches on a busy year. It's tradition that the 6th graders leaving the troop for the Cadette level, have a day of their own. This year they chose fun at Santa Cruz! Needless to say, they had a "ball" riding as many rides on the boardwalk as they could manage, picnicked on the beach, back to Campbell for dinner at a restaurant and climaxed their day with an over-night at the home of their leader, Mrs. Richard Backstrom.

On Saturday, the entire troop had their "final fling" which included a swim party and cook-out at Vasona.

CHILI BOUND–Miss Melanie Oswald won't be seeing her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Prolo of Robin Ln. during the summer, for she will be spending the summer in Santiago, Chile as part of the international scout exchange. She will live with a Chilean family attend regular meetings of the Chilean Girl Guides and join in other service projects and encampments. Melanie will visit the Girl Scout National Headquarters in New York City before leaving for Chile July 3. She will return Aug. 26.

United Fund sets Campbell goal of $50,198

Campbell United Fund Chairman Robert E. Harrison announced recently that the Campbell community goal for the 1968 United Fund 10th anniversary campaign had been set at $50,198.

Harrison, manager of IBM's Information Records Division plant, says that the Campbell appeal is a part of the United Fund Central Area drive to solicit $1,893,153 from a ten community area.

In its 10th year of public service, United Fund has set a county-wide goal of $3.1 million. This is a ten percent raise over last year's $2.89 million collected during the appeal.

The new goal increase has been attributed to the need for more funds in the disadvantaged areas of the county and to the recent addition of six new agencies to the United Fund roles. Eighty-one agencies in Santa Clara County receive UF support.

Booked on CCW charge

Larry Dee Gibson, 21, 5269 Estrade St., San Jose, was booked early Sunday morning on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon, drunk driving and possession of narcotics, after being stopped by Policeman Robert Lockwood in Campbell at 1:59 a.m.

Lockwood had originally halted the car because the brake lights had not functioned. After calling for help, an inventory of the car revealed a marijuana cigarette and also the fact that Gibson was packing a dagger stuck in his right boot.

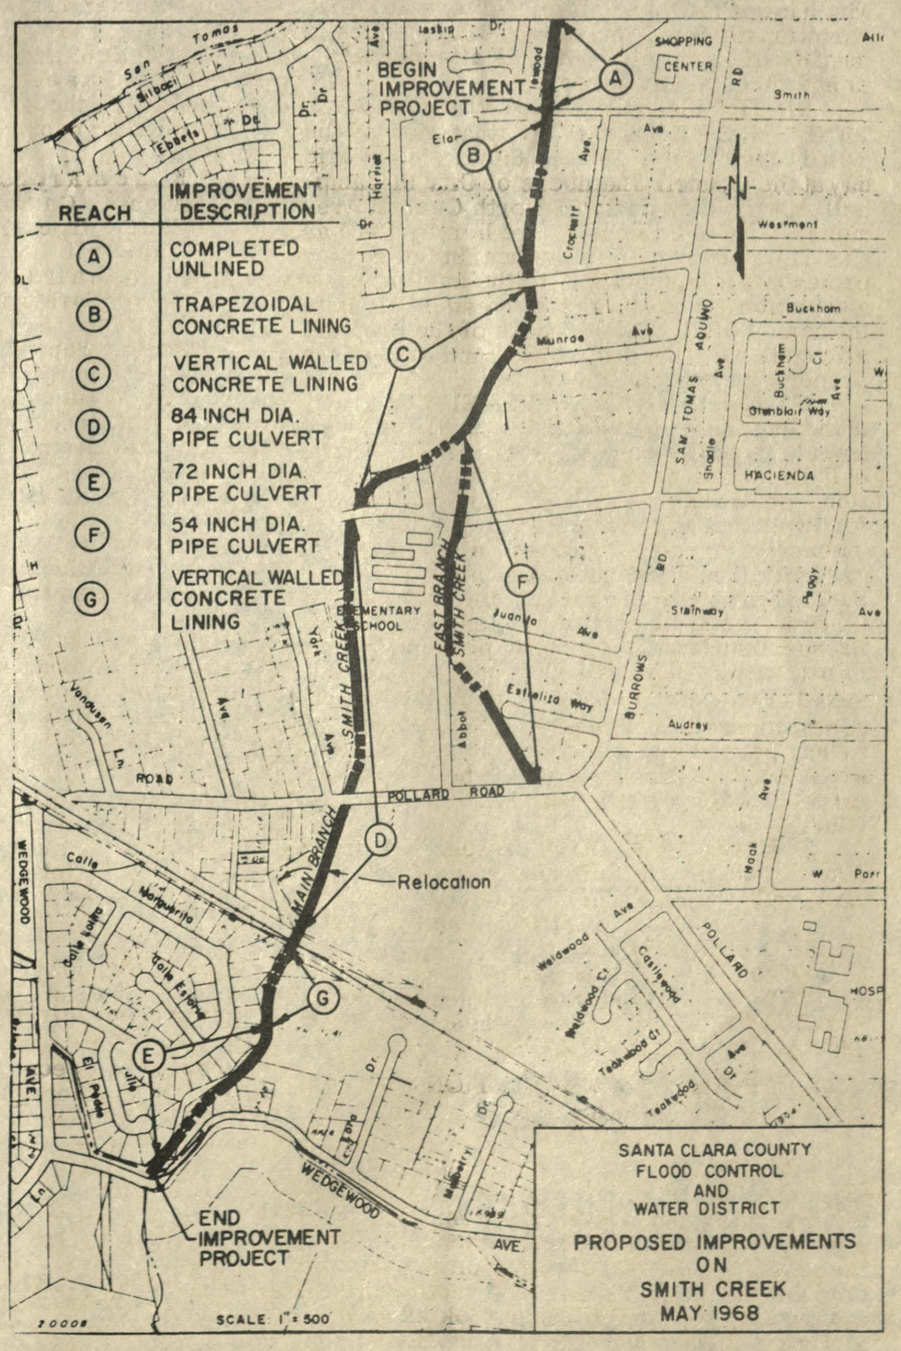
THREE CHEERS FOR THE FAIR--Three candidates for the title of Miss Santa Clara County Fair call attention to the Aug. 16-25 dates of the 24th annual Fair. They are (from l. to r.), Terry Lopes, Miss Cambrian Park; Terry Buck, Miss Almaden; and Carmen Villegas, Miss Northside. The girls are among seven beauties chosen so far to vie for Queen of the Fair. The final pageant will be held Aug. 3. at the Fairgrounds.



Smith Creek plans get airing

Work is expected to begin on the rerouting on the main and east branches of Smith Creek from its confluence with San Tomas Creek to a terminus point in the area bounded by Wedgewood and Pollard Roads.

That is what an overflow crowd of interested residents of the area involved from Campbell and Los Gatos, learned at a recent meeting of the County Flood Control and Water District held at the Rinconada Water Treatment Plant on More Ave.

The work will start in the Campbell area just west of the San Tomas Village Shopping Center.

The project was described by Lloyd Fowler, district engineer, who presented a step by step analysis of the project to control flooding in the area.

Fowler said that a re-evaluation of the decisions made in 1961 have resulted in changes that will save trees, greenery, and disrupt the countryside as little as possible.

He added that undergrounding of much of the creek in pipelines and covered concrete-walled conduits, was now possible because of cost differentials in acquiring less right-of-way strip area in the redesign.

Fowler pointed out that covered channels represented an economic problem, but that if individuals were willing to share in the costs of covers, as already arranged with the City of Campbell, they could do so.

Chain-link fencing to keep children out of deep channel areas would be installed, according to Fowler, in addition to installation of bridges as necessary, with such expenses being borne by the district.

Fowler estimated that the project would be completed within a year's time, depending to some degree on the weather. Bids are scheduled to be opened in August for the project.

In his report, Fowler indicated that Campbell residents had expressed preference for completely closed conduits in their area and residents in the Wedgewood-Pollard sector wanted the creek to meander through the shrub-lined portions abutting their homes.

Police lists include missing street signs

Along with the reports of eight bikes, one motorcycle and numerous items missing from unlocked cars, the City of Campbell came up missing five street signs during the last week. The residents of the Latimer and Llewellyn avenue area are no longer being cautioned "Speed checked by Radar", "Not a through street", "Keep right" and "Stop" while the street name signs at Westchester and McGlincey Lane are missing.

Residents are once again warned that unlocked cars are an invitation to petty theft. Two batteries were stolen, numerous stereo tapes and radios reported missing and even two purses left in the front seat of a car were gone. A tire was also removed from one car.

A group of juveniles were questioned early Sunday morning after they attempted to obtain their Fourth of July fireworks without paying for them. Dennis Green, who was sleeping in the fireworks stand in front of the Bonanza Home Center, was awakened by noises, and apprehended two boys cutting the canvass back.
